

THE WOBBLY LABYRINTH

A comic, twisty maze chase where even your light might lie to you.

1. Overview

The Wobbly Labyrinth is a single-player maze-chase game. The player picks a world and a hero, then explores twisting, never-straight paths to catch a fast-moving target before a hidden enemy catches them. The game is built around three themes: Light, Twist and Comic.

LIGHT	TWIST	COMIC
The watch-tap guide light: 3 uses only.	One hint lies. Twisty paths. Hidden ambush enemy.	Sound effects, speech bubbles, comic-page transitions.

2. Core Gameplay Loop

- Choose a map on the map-selection screen (Motherboard or Alice in Wonderland).
- Choose a character out of three, each with a unique superpower.
- Explore the twisty maze using the controller (direction and speed control).
- Use the guide light and your power wisely to find the way and avoid danger.
- Win by catching the moving target or by reaching the maze exit before the timer runs out; lose if the enemy catches you.

3. The Two Worlds

MAP 1: THE MOTHERBOARD	MAP 2: ALICE IN WONDERLAND
A glowing circuit-board maze of copper traces, chips and capacitors. Neon colours, pixel details, and the Coder lurking somewhere in the wiring. The prize: the Byte .	A twisting garden of hedges, teacups and playing cards, full of tea-party chaos. Bright storybook colours, and the Red Queen waiting in her hiding spot. The prize: the White Rabbit .

4. Characters and Superpowers

Each map has three heroes. Powers are mirrored across both maps so the game stays balanced.

Power	Motherboard	Alice in Wonderland
Portal Opens a shortcut to another part of the maze	Jumper - jumps wire to wire	Alice - slips through the looking glass
Path Eliminator Removes wrong paths ahead	Floppy - wipes out dead-end circuits	Mad Hatter - his mad logic clears the false trails
X-Ray Vision See through walls	Chip - scans the board layers	Tweedledum - peers through the walls

Mechanics and Design

5. The Guide Light (and its Twist)

- Tap the character's watch to send out a beam of light pointing toward the target.
- The light can be used only 3 times per game.
- One of the three uses is secretly wrong and misleads the player. The game never says which one, so every use becomes a risky decision.
- The glow matches the world: neon traces on the Motherboard, lantern light in Wonderland.

6. The Moving Target (The Snitch)

- Shaped like the Byte on the Motherboard and the White Rabbit in Wonderland.
- It darts around the maze unpredictably the whole time.
- Catching it wins the game instantly and ends the match, even before you reach the exit.

7. The Enemy

- The Red Queen (Wonderland) and The Coder (Motherboard), one per map.
- The enemy stays hidden in a fixed spot and starts chasing only when the player enters its line of sight (the trigger zone).
- If the enemy catches the player, the game is lost.
- A subtle clue near the hiding spot (a crown glint, a flickering pixel) lets careful players avoid the ambush.

8. Controls and Maze Design

- The controller lets the player change direction and speed. Slowing down helps in tight twists; speeding up helps in a chase.
- All paths are twisty and curved, with no long straight corridors, which makes the maze feel wobbly and hard to read.

9. Map Special Features

- Motherboard - Glitch: if the player takes more than two wrong turns, the board glitches and the maze gets harder to read.
- Wonderland - Cheshire Cat: the grinning cat roams the garden, appearing and vanishing as a playful wildcard.

10. Win and Lose Conditions

WIN	LOSE
Catch the Byte or White Rabbit, or reach the end of the maze within the timer.	The Red Queen or the Coder catches you.

11. Comic Style

- Sound-effect pop-ups such as BOING!, ZAP! and GOTCHA! when you use powers, get caught or catch the target.
- Speech bubbles for characters, like the Red Queen shouting "Off with their heads!" or Alice reacting when the light misleads her.
- Panel-style transitions between screens, like turning a comic page.
- Funny lose screens, such as the Coder crashing your game with "Syntax Error: You're Caught!"

12. The Team

Name	Programme	Indie ID	Email
Ghritika Gupta	UG1, IIIT Hyderabad - CSD	ghritikaguptarocks.100	ghritika.gupta@research.iiit.ac.in
Suhani Kakkar	UG1, IIIT Hyderabad - ECE	kakkarsuhani56	suhani.kakkar@students.iiit.ac.in
Vaidehi Jain	UG1, IIIT Hyderabad - ECD	bobdablob	vaidehi.jain@research.iiit.ac.in
Ritisha Agarwal	IIIT Hyderabad	ritisha	ritisha.agarwal@research.iiit.ac.in